CONDENSED TELEGRAMS.

French Senator Edmond De Lafayette, a grandson of the Marquis, died in Paris yesterday.

Aaron Hawley, one of the oldest residents of San Diego, died yesterday at the age of 78 years.

An explosion occurred yesterday in a factory at Sandorf, Germany, where a new explosive is being manufactured. Three women were blown to pieces.

Colonel David Wilder, a well known member of the California National Guard, died yesterday morning in San Francisco from inflammation of the bowels.

Henry Kemp, a Reading Railroad brakeman, charged with criminal negligence, causing the disaster at Shoenmakersville, by which twenty people were killed and many injured, was acquitted at Reading yesterday.

Silvester Nonello, who killed Robert Higgins at Cayce, Cal., in a drunken squabble in October, but was afterwards discharged, was rearrested yesterday by the county sheriff at the instigation of the grand jury on a charge of murder.

A Feroocious Bear.

From the Tombstone Prospector.

Another victim of an encounter with a bear is reported from the Huachuca. He was a soldier and was on the track of a bear, when the latter sprang upon him from a clump of bushes, and did not give him an opportunity to defend himself. The poor fellow fainted from loss of blood, and was not able to walk, but crawled back till he met some associates on a hunt for him. It is thought that this is the same bear which nearly killed Montgomery a fortnight ago. An organized effort will be made to destroy the animal before he does any more damage. The soldier was torn in a much more serious manner than Montgomery, and it will be several months before he will be able to do duty.

Robert E. Morrison Married.

From the Albuquerque Citizen.

Hon. Robert E. Morrison, of Apache County, Ariz., was married to Mrs. J. T. Logan, at Topeka, Kan., November 26. This is a happy marriage. Mr. Morrison is one of the rising young lawyers of Arizona, and Mrs. Logan is a charming, intelligent woman. She is the widow of Walter T. Logan, who at one time was a popular newspaper man in this city, and who afterwards purchased an interest in a cattle ranch in Arizona, where he died.
